Vets Day Observance Is Planned By Local Legion

Shirley Bourgeois, Commander of the local American Legion, and Fred E. Fayard Sr., chairman of the Americanism Committee, announced this week that plans for the annual Veterans Day Parade will be completed. An invitation is being extended to all city and county schools, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and all organizations to participate.

According to Chairman Fayard, there will be a drum and bugle corps and a marching unit from Keesler Air Force Base. Also taking part will be the local National Guard and all of their equipment.

The following schools and clubs are to be in the parade: Bay High School, Saint Stanislaus College, Saint Joseph Academy, Waveland, Aaron Academy, Clermont Harbor, Dedaux, Gainesville, Kiln, Leetown, Logtown and others.

The parade will assemble at Bay High School and start promptly at 10 a.m. Route of the parade will be as follows:

Up Carroll to Beach, south to Main St., down Main to Second, south to Union, east to Beach, North to Main, down Main to courthouse, where ceremonies will be held consisting of raising of flag by the Boy Scouts followed by the National Anthem. There will be a speaker for the occasion.

At one minute to eleven o'clock a period of silence will be observed to the memory of those veterans who "gave their lives that we may survive."

A firing squad will fire a salute to deceased veterans, followed by taps. Throughout the ceremonies there will be selections by all participating bands.

Fayard, in an invitation to the public to participate in the observance, said:

"Remember, the veterans are the men and women of all branches of service who have fought and done their part for our country. Now let all of us do our part to honor them on Nov. 11."

Halloween Quite Quiet Locally

An unusually quiet Halloween night preceded a busy All Saints Day. During the early hours Monday night there were numerous groups of small fry on the streets indulging in the fun of trick or treat, and as the evening advanced the older children took over.

However, the children were generally well behaved with little damage reported by the authorities. A number of private parties took many of the youngsters throughout most of the day.

All Saints Day dawned beautiful with sunny skies and mild temperatures. Church attendance of the holiday.

NAMED MOST TALENTED FRESHMAN GIRL AT LSU

Sandra Scalfide, native Bay St. Louis girl, earned the title of "Most Talented Freshman Girl" at LSU for her rendition of "Gimme Mia" at the Freshman Talent Show held Oct. 26 in the Gym Armory of the University.

Cups were presented to the Most Talented Freshman Girl and Boy. The show followed a traditional ceremony in which the ROTC cadet corps marched to the Freshman Girls' units and escorted the girls to the parade grounds for the coronation of the fresh man King and Queen.

Miss Scalfide is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur Scalfide and the late Mr. Scalfide. She was born here and attended St. Joseph Academy until the time her parents moved to New Orleans several years ago. She is a frequent visitor and her voice is often heard at local weddings and for other events held in the Catholic Church or civic affairs.

She is a niece of Mayor and Mrs. John Scalfide, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Matherne.

Mrs. H. A. Frey, chairman for the annual spaghetti supper sponsored by the Mothers Club of St. Joseph Academy, reported the affair a great success.

Complete financial returns were not in yet, but Mrs. Frey said she expects that when all returns are made and all expenses deducted that the event will be one of the most lucrative given.

She also wished to express her thanks to the members of her committee who worked so hard with her, to the merchants and the individuals who were so generous in their contributions of merchandise and cash.

Miss Shirley Bufkin will be a maid of honor in the court of Queen Melinda Ford of Columbia during the Homecoming festivities at Pearl River Junior College Saturday.

Convent Setting of Next Little Theatre Play

Bay St. Louis should provide a record audience at the coming production of the Little Theatre to view "The Velvet Glove," a comedy in three acts by Rosemary Casey, which first appeared on the famous Walter Hampden and Grace George starring.

This play won the coveted $5,000 Christopher award and has been highly approved by the Roman Catholic Church. It deals with the human side of the religious orders and is not in any respect a conversion play. It is the type of play that made moving picture history with Bing Crosby in "Going My Way."

The cast was selected carefully, with the production unit of the theatre weighing each actor before casting. Mayor John Scalfide, who has been outstanding in many past performances, will do the role created by Hampden as the aged monsignor. Mrs. Lloyd Griffith will star as the Mother General of the order of nuns, and Lloyd Griffith will portray the Presbyterian newspaper publisher, a devoted friend of the Mother General. Dean of the Convent College will be Katie Ripple, who showed such excellent promise in "Ladies in Retirement" and walked off with an Oscar. Robert Leffler returns to give another fine performance as the college professor whose writings and lectures provide the plot of the story, while Jamie Wiggins plays the secretary to Mother General. She and Leffler give the romantic element to the play.

Dr. Adrian Hava is very fine as the dignified and harrassed young bishop, while Lucien Raymond returns after a lengthy vacation from the theatre to play the role of a priest.

Imogene Allison and Patricia Horlock complete the fine cast, as nun and novice in the convent.

The production staff is working diligently to be technically correct on the play and every effort toward authenticity of dress and setting is being exercised. Katherine Wilson and A. J. Thomas will handle the art and stage settings while Phil Allison will erect the set.

Caroline Kiefer is directing the play, with Teddy Stechmann Jr. prompting.

Second Polio Shot Program Slated For Mid-November

New Steps For Beach

The Parks and Playgrounds Commission started work this week on new approach steps to the sand beach at the head of Carroll Ave.

The former set of steps had been dismantled when the fill of the fronts was being done. With the completion of the fill there were only the steps in front of the Hotel Reed that were used to descend from the road to the beach. These steps are privately owned by the hotel and are not sufficiently wide to take care of the many persons who use the beach.

The new steps will be eight feet in width with a 12 foot platform to ease both the ascent and descent from the beach.

With the hundreds of children and adults who use this public beach almost every month in the year, the approach will be in use as soon as it is completed.

Second program for vaccinating children in Hancock County against polio is now in planning stage, and tentatively scheduled to begin about the middle of November, Dr. C. M. County Health Officer, told the Eagle this week.

"In the use of any vaccine there is a lapse of about ninety days from the time of vaccination until the child is fully protected," Dr. Shipp declared. "That's the reason we want to get started before the polio season descends upon us."

He said present plans call for the vaccination of all school children between the ages of 5 and 14, inclusive. School children in this group who got two shots last spring will be given the single booster shot, which comes about seven months after the second shot. The law failed to get the second shot will be picked up along with this group.

Arrangements have again been made to transport children from the county's schools to the health department on a schedule furnished by the County Superintendent of Education.

At the present time, all school children in this group are being furnished vaccination permits, to be signed by the parent or the child.

"We want it clearly understood no child will be vaccinated without permission from the parents," Dr. Shipp said. "Every child who comes to the Health Department must bring a card with the parent's signature, or we will not vaccinate the child."

"The vaccine we will use has been subjected to every scientific test known for safety and sterility," the health officer assured parents. "There should be no more reaction to its use than other vaccines we use on babies and children."

He said the whole program depends on the supply of vaccine located to the Board of Health. There are about 500,000 school children in the 6-14 age group in the state.

Mrs. Anise Florence Collier, 81 year old native of Bay St. Louis, died in King's Daughters Hospital Thursday, Oct. 27 at 1:45 a.m.

She was the wife of James Collier, mother of Miss Thelma Collier, Alden and Thaddeus Collier of Bay St. Louis, James Collier of Mobile, Ala., sister of John Favre of New Orleans, La. and Mrs. Amelia Wagner of Baltimore. She also is survived by 5 grand children.

Clermont Woman Starts Doll Hospital

Mrs. Irene Moran has opened a new business at her home on Lower Bay Road in Clermont Harbor which should be a delight to mothers and small daughters of Hancock County.

The Moran Doll Hospital will not only repair and refurbish old and well-loved dolls, but Mrs. Moran will also make any type of fabric doll that may be desired.

Repairing antique and modern dolls is a special feature of the hospital. Little Sister's favorite dolls need no longer have a missing finger or broken nose, or need a new wig. She also dresses dolls in any type costume or dress.

New Orleans has only one doll hospital, and there is none other than Mrs. Moran's on this section of the Coast.

Mrs. Moran's business sprang from a hobby of repairing and dressing dolls for herself and a younger sister. She studied and learned the methods used in expert repairing and remodeling in New Orleans.

Mrs. Moran also is a painter, and has studied art under several leading teachers. She is a member of the Gulf Coast Art Association and the Delgado Art Association since.

Originally summer residents of the Coast, the Moran family has lived in Clermont Harbor about 20 years ago and have resided in the Delgado Art Association since.

This unique American program, was under the sponsorship of the Council of Church Women of America, and was the fourth year of the program. The plan started in 1952 with 30 states participating. In that year collections by the children totaled $25,000. The program met with such success that in 1954 48 states participated with a total collection of $272,000. Last year's collection was $272,000.

TALES

The waste paper baskets in the rooms and the trash containers on the campus have taken on a new significance. Mr. McCubbin's efforts to keep the school neat and presentable have had the full support of the faculty and the Student Council. At last most of the student body has realized that an uncluttered campus and attractive classroom stimulate better learning and a clean school is one of which they can be justly proud.

Plans for FFA week are now in progress. Monday, first official meeting, plans for the week and sing FFA songs. Tuesday, Family Fun; Wednesday, every FFA member is encouraged to plant a rose bush. The rose is the FFA national flower; Thursday, try to do one good deed for someone; Friday, encourage school spirit; Saturday, help your family every way possible.

The Bay High Band gave a benefit show at the A&G theatre Thursday afternoon. The benefit was for the purpose of raising money for new uniforms. Needless to say this is a heart-felt drive on the part of band members.

The two main features of the benefit movie were a Huntz Hall and a Three Stooges comedy. They were preceded by a "Tweetie" cartoon.

The turnout for this benefit was very gratifying. The band members know that they are a long way from their goal but feel encouraged that they have made a start toward new uniforms.

The cake sale sponsored by the Senior girls in front of Jitter Jungle Saturday was a big success. The girls will also sell candy and cake for the rest of the week on the campus.

Mrs. Hall has at last received her long awaited bundle of joy. The new Collier's Encyclopedia have arrived in the library and are ready and anxious for the students to use them.

The Journalism class is working on the second edition of the Student Prints which they hope will come out for the Christmas holiday.

The chorus is now working on the annual Christmas Cantata which is held at the school every year. The girls have really progressed this year, according to chorus director Marcel LaNasa.

Last Thursday night the Junior Red Cross held its first meeting, under sponsorship of Miss Julie Blaize. The council, Corrie Mae Vetter, Judy Rauxet, Gail Herbert, Tommy Hill, Larry Bennett, Rita Morel, Linda Lee Normand, Edith Traub, Tommy Johnston and Pat Smith, plus a few interested members were present. Eleanor Buftin, Chairman, outlined the year's work for the Council.

The Pee Wee and Junior football teams are playing St. Paul's of Covington on Saturday, November 5.

The Pee Wees also will play St. Stanislaus on Thursday, Nov. 3. The Middlets have a return game with Picayune slated for Tuesday, Nov. 1.

The Bay High Tigers were defeated last Friday night 28-0 by Petal. The teams fought on even terms the first half. Bay High held Petal to six points the first half. The third quarter Petal intercepted a pass and scored, making it 12-0. On the next kickoff, Grady Perkins was injured.

American Legion AUXILIARY NOTES

The Harvest Ball did not net enough to purchase gifts for the Veterans Gift Shops. This Unit is taxed two gifts per member, based on last year's membership, which was 173, making the gifts total 346. Members of the American Legion Auxiliary are asked to donate one or two gifts toward the Gift Shop. This is an emergency and for a worthy cause.

All gifts go to the three VA Hospitals in Mississippi, located at Jackson, Biloxi and Gulfport, for the almost 3,000 veterans. Each veteran selects an average of five gifts to send to his family.

Members wishing to donate toward the gift shop should contact Mrs. Jim Pfeiffer, phone 573-W, or bring donations to the next Auxiliary meeting.

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 will be held Monday night, November 1 at the Legion Home. Memorial Services will be held. All members are urged to attend.

SOUTHERN TO PRESENT 'SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL'

Twenty-five Mississippi Southern College students have been appointed crew members for the Southern Players' coming production of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's "The School for Scandal". DIDYANO?

BY BOBBIE KATT

Grady Perkins is hobbling around on crutches these days, but he seems to be looking happier since Peggy Kergosien is "hobbling" with him!!

Di Blanchard, Julie Blanchard and Ann Blanchard spent Saturday in Plaquemine, La. They also attended the LSU-Ole Miss game. They had a wonderful time throwing articles out of the grandstands.

Lotsa people had lotsa fun at the Halloween dance at the Kiln Youth Center. Shirley Miller's baggy eyes Monday morning revealed that she had a groov time!

Sheila Heitzmann's aunt had 4 fun-lovin' guests over the weekend. Janet Genin, Janelle Egloff, Sheila and Shirley Miller. Spent the week end in Baton Rouge and attend the LSU-Ole Miss game.

Reigning over the Harvest Ball this year will be Kay Cabell, Queen, and Pat Favre, King. Pat and Kay have been dating pretty steadily lately. Hmmm

The Halloween skits presented by the high school of SJA at the annual party were hilarious. The Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores tied for first place with the Freshies coming in second.

Phyllis Smith and Bay Chamberlain are just two among the many that did excellent jobs of their roles!!!

Pat Bourgeois and Ray Briers have been steadily dating for about a month now. Guess we'll just add them to our list of Steady-goers!!!

First issue of this year's Sea Sprite, the SJA school paper, rolled off the Eagle's presses this week. Congrats to Editor Rusty Breath and her staff for a dandy job.

COMMISSIONER BIRDSONG TO TIGHTEN PATROL LAW ENFORCEMENT

Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong, assembling his nine district inspectors and their assistant inspectors in Jackson recently, ordered a "tightening down" in all phases of law enforcement pertaining to the Highway Patrol, and a "pepping up" on the part of patrolmen themselves.

Calling for stricter traffic law enforcement, Gen. Birdsong pointed out to his officers that the increasing traffic accident rate is "a challenge to our small force. We have an outstanding record, but to keep it we must work even harder."

Give tickets to all violators was the order. But Commissioner Birdsong cautioned his men to be firm, always courteous, and always impartial. "Courtesy above all will pay off," he said, requesting that his patrolmen explain to the traffic violator specifically with what he or she is being charged.

Patrolmen also were urged to explain to ticketed motorists the state's Justice of the Peace system, and the fact that the Patrol gets no part of the fine.

"Good citizens complain more than ever before about a $5.00 ticket; a courteous explanation at the time ticket is issued may prevent this," Commissioner Birdsong stressed, adding, "Be firm, but courteous."

Night patrol units have been placed on the highways in some districts during recent weeks, a complete departure from the Patrol's normal 10 to 10 schedule of enforcement. The necessity of this step was outlined to the assembled inspectors by their commissioner.

Night-time accidents are on the increase and many motorists, realizing that in the past highways have been unpatrolled after midnight, flagrantly disregard traffic regulations during this period. Using the early morning hours to push their heavy vans across Mississippi at speeds sometimes exceeding that which is safe and legal.

The night Patrol cars are to see that this speeding is curtailed. Commissioner Birdsong also stressed increased use of the state's nine radar machines, and told officers attending the staff meeting that a survey is under way at this time to study the possibility of erecting permanent radar signs on all highways. This would mean that Patrolmen would continue use of the bright yellow signs which they erect whenever radar is in use.

Although state law does not require use of the radar "warning," it has been the Patrol's policy in the past to clearly mark the immediate area where radar is being worked, a practice which in the opinion of some safety leaders defeats the purpose of radar.

"We are a small organization by other state police and highway patrol standards," Commissioner Birdsong stated in summary, "but our unit is well-trained and well-equipped. Our National Safety Council considers our traffic enforcement commendable. Let's keep it that way."

WAVELAND

by

GEORGETTE B. HALL

It's been a rather quiet week in Waveland interrupted as it was by All Saint's Day which occurred on Tuesday. The day was remembered by all those who have loved ones who have passed away.

The local cemeteries were cleaned and the beautiful flowers that were lovingly placed upon the graves honored the memories of the dead. Local schools had a holiday, the first since school opened in September.

This hold day was preceded by Halloween and two large parties were held in Waveland for the celebrants. On Friday evening the teenagers had a good time at the Waveland School when the Mothers' Club sponsored a dance and party for their pleasure.

Many of the young folks attended in costumes and masks, thus adding to the "spooky" atmosphere that accompanies Halloween. On Saturday evening many adults gathered at the Top Hat to enjoy the music of Kramer's Band and dancing. The affair was sponsored by the Waveland School Mothers' Club for the benefit of their Christmas fund. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes. According to all reports the dance was a success financially, and everyone who attended had a wonderful time.

In the absence of Mrs. A. A. Mathis, president of the Waveland Garden Club, Mrs. Roger Bordages presided at the regular monthly meeting of the club held this week at the home of Mrs. Frank Henchy. Present were Mesdames Barber, Munch, Sauer, Bourgeois, Daly, Gates, Henchy and Bordages.

Mr. Alton Barber of Waveland was honored at a stork shower given by Mesdames Howard Simmons and Travis Bozeman at the home of Mrs. Simmons in Bay St. Louis. Games were enjoyed by the guests as well as delicious refreshments. Mrs. Barber received some beautiful gifts. About thirty ladies were present who extended their best wishes to Mrs. Barber and the expectant new-comer.

Drs. Otto Mollere, Bill Wood and Adrian Hava attended the dental convention held in New Orleans during the past week.

—W-W—
Dr. and Mrs. Otto Mollere and daughter, Gail, spent the weekend in Waveland as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mollere.

—W-W—
The revival held all last week at the Waveland Methodist Church came to successful conclusion Friday evening when the final sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. C. Rousseau of Waveland.

District Superintendent Ridgeway and the Rev. A. M. Ellison of Bay St. Louis also were in charge, with Brother Ridgeway preaching on Monday through Thursday evening.

The Rev. J. P. Bonnerre furnished two musical favorites on separate nights and Misses Clara Lee Ketchum of Waveland and Sylvia Tamplin of Lakeshore also sang during one of the services.

The revival was well attended and plans are under way at the present time to increase the building fund so that a chapel may soon be constructed on the church grounds.

You are invited to attend services which are held every Sunday in the present building at Favre Lane and Railroad Ave. Church is at 9 a.m. followed by Sunday School at 10 a.m. The

SOUTHERN TO MEET ABILENE WILDCATS

Mississippi Southern goes after its first gridiron win in Texas since 1947 when it rangles with the Abilene Christian Wildcats in Abilene Saturday afternoon.

The Southerners have played and lost four games in the Lone Star state since '47, including two post-season defeats in the Sun Bowl at El Paso.

Southern, 23-7 victor over Abilene in Hattiesburg last season, will be trying for its sixth win of this year.

The Wildcats will be gunning for their second win, having lost three games and played two ties since winning their opening contest. In their latest game, the Cats tied Southwest Texas State 19-19 last week.

—W-W—
Rev. A. M. Ellison of the Waveland and Bay St. Louis Methodist Churches is in charge. Mrs. Ruth Ketchum is in charge of music and singing.

IMPROVEMENTS MADE; OTHERS TO FOLLOW

When the students came back to school at the beginning of the session they found that many improvements had been made to the classrooms, basement, library and gym.

Equipping the senior and junior classrooms are modern maple desks. Each room also received a new teacher's cabinet.

Two new sections of shelves have been added to S.J.A.'s library to hold the new books which are to be purchased soon.

Seven new linoleum covered tables have been placed in the basement.

Completing the list of improvements is the refinishing of the floor and stage in the gym.
